COMMERCIAL SPECIFICATION

TRAINING STYLE

Slow-tension strength

Controlled counts, holds, planks, lunges, muscular endurance, and core-heavy programming.

RESISTANCE

Multi-spring

Progressive resistance changes across beginner, intermediate, and advanced class programming.

PLATFORM LAYOUT

Dual platform

Front and rear working zones support more transitions than a standard reformer lane.

PURCHASE MODEL

Independent purchase

No annual equipment license or franchise fee from The Carriage Co.

Plan the order, not just the machine.

Use this page with a contractor, partner, or equipment quote. It separates verified machine facts from the project decisions that still need written confirmation.

STUDIO PROCUREMENT CHECKLIST

Room and receiving

- Confirm the 133 x 36 inch machine footprint.
- Add instructor aisles, accessibility, egress, storage, and service access.
- Measure doors, corridors, elevators, stairs, turns, and loading access.

Finish and room fit

- Choose the standard Carriage One finish or a Carriage Pro build-sheet review.
- Confirm available samples before promising a custom material or combination.
- Evaluate repeated machine spacing and finish under the room's actual lighting.

Order and release

- Confirm machine count and opening window.
- Quote freight, receiving, delivery, tax, and special handling separately.
- Review commercial warranty documents before final order release.

Operating model

- Model classes, seats, utilization, payroll, rent, and downtime separately.
- Confirm the class format and instructor workflow fit the platform.
- Do not treat raw machine area as a finished or code-compliant room plan.

Two buying routes

Buy one machine direct

Use Stripe Checkout when one Carriage One is the only decision. The $4,950 checkout covers the machine; freight, delivery, warranty documents, and final release

Quote the studio project

Use a studio quote when count, room constraints, freight, delivery sequencing, opening timing, or a Carriage Pro build sheet changes the order.
